

Arthur – from Moving Ideas by F. Salerno

Catherine of Aragon and Arthur were married when they were 15, but their union was organized when they were even younger: Henry VII wanted to secure the Catholic Monarchs' support against French power as early as he could. Unfortunately Arthur died very soon and Catherine had to marry her husband's brother to become Queen of England.