

THE PROJECT

In the class, a few weeks ago, we started a project with the teacher. We formed five groups and we worked on many interesting stories. We started to read the parts and every groups talked about it. The group where I worked and I actually work is formed by Gabriela, Veronica, Francisca and me. We read the story of Treasure Islands. Every groups had a story where the central topic is treasure, material or not! After we talked about this, we created a map ^{with} the treasure. Together we tried to make friends guess. We enjoyed so much. This project is very interesting, different from the normal lessons. I learned to work in team, to enjoy myself at school, ^{to} increase my knowledge and ^{to} love the poems of Emily Dickinson.

THE PROJECT

What I remember?

- I remember when we organized some groups to understand better the ~~story~~ various stories.

I learned an important ~~thing~~^{message} about hope that is the most important thing in my life. I had never thought about hope but now I can see the world with a different view.

What I can do?

- Now I can translate better than before and I have more trust in myself.

What I liked?

- I liked so much when we did the treasure map because we worked ~~together~~ together to find many clues.

The project

I think this project was very good because with that I could learn a lot of things that before I didn't know. For example I knew some writers as Stevenson or Dickinson, I read some books which I had never read. Now I can speak about story of treasures, maps and other things. I enjoyed myself very much catching my treasure and discovered the others treasures. Besides I like working in pairs with some my friends and, between smiles and ideas, I grew up. Personally I think these project are very important to do in the school and I hope this isn't last project.

The project

- 1) What I remember?
- 2) What I can do?
- 3) What I liked?

I remember the story of Senang, the red-golden dragon who want preserved his treasure, I remember many new words learned in the project, I remember the map of treasure, Now I can speak very quick and better, I can write better than before because I know more many words, I can do team game and now I can translate better than before I liked all of this project, the team game, the activity, the group, stay together studying, the map of treasure, the discovery of my new capacities, very all, I liked so much this project. An experience of life which helped me very much.

THE PROJECT

What I remember?

What I can do?

What I liked?

I remember the Origins and acts of the Goblins; the moral essay of R.L. Stevenson (El decado); the treasure map of my group; the poem of Emily Dickinson. This project is started on 3/05/11 when we divided in group; my group is formed Bob, Richard and me. Now I can read and listen the story and now I can speak and understand better the English.

I liked this project because it has been beautiful. I liked the jobs and I liked staying and to working with my friends.

In this English project, directed by my English teacher, I enjoyed myself very much, because it was very interesting and very excited. I learned many things about my city that I didn't know. For example now I know that my city is very famous because here probably there are a Goth king's burial and a treasure, too. I also knew that a treasure mustn't be only material. We have many treasures without knowing, like a family who loves us, many friends and souvenirs. Besides now I can repeat to many people a text that I read before. It was a beautiful experience that I want to repeat. I enjoyed myself doing treasure map and discovering the other treasures. I want this project to last because the lessons were very rapid and every time I waited for English class.
